A Review of

Reports Submitted by Regional Planning Commissions

September 2009
Report No. 10-002
Overall Conclusion

Fifteen (62.50 percent) of the 24 regional planning commissions (RPCs) in Texas submitted all statutorily required financial, productivity, performance, audit, and salary information to the State Auditor’s Office. That information was due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009. This information is important because the annual financial reports that the RPCs submitted for this review period indicated they received $841,655,713 in local, state, and federal funds annually.

In addition, none of the RPCs submitted all of the information components required by the Texas Administrative Code (see Appendix 2 for Texas Administrative Code requirements). For example, 14 (58.33 percent) of the 24 RPCs submitted productivity and performance reports that did not include a comparison of planned to actual performance as required by the Texas Administrative Code. It is important to note that auditors compiled the information that RPCs provided to the State Auditor’s Office. Auditors did not audit the financial information the RPCs provided.

Certified public accountants (CPA) issued unqualified opinions\(^1\) on the financial statements of all 24 RPCs. However, the CPAs identified material weaknesses in internal controls at 3 (12.50 percent) of the RPCs:

- The Alamo Area Council of Governments, see Chapter 1-A on page 5.
- The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, see Chapter 1-R on page 22.

\(^1\) An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
The Texoma Council of Governments, see Chapter 1-W on page 27.

According to performance information the RPCs submitted, RPCs have multiple programs and functions. According to the RPCs’ audited financial statements, the two programs for which the RPCs spent the largest amounts of funds were aging and workforce development.

Nine special purpose sub-regional planning commissions were created between August 2007 and October 2008 to represent local citizens on issues related to the Trans-Texas Corridor. These sub-regional planning commissions were not included in this review.

Summary of Objective, Scope, and Methodology

The objective of this review was to determine whether RPCs have submitted reports and audits to the State Auditor’s Office as required under Texas Local Government Code, Section 391.0095, and report any failure to submit reports and audits to the Governor’s Office.

The scope of this review covered reports due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009.

The methodology for this review included determining whether RPCs submitted statutorily required information due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009. Auditors did not verify the accuracy of this information. Auditors also compiled certain information provided by the RPCs, such as the results of financial statement audits and information from productivity and performance reports.

Summary of Information from Reports That Regional Planning Commissions Submitted

Fifteen (62.50 percent) of the 24 regional planning commissions (RPCs) in Texas submitted all statutorily required financial, productivity, performance, audit, and salary information to the State Auditor’s Office. That information was due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009.

None of the RPCs submitted all of the information components required by the Texas Administrative Code (see Appendix 2 for Texas Administrative Code requirements). For example, 14 (58.33 percent) of the 24 RPCs submitted productivity and performance reports that did not include a comparison of planned to actual performance as required by the Texas Administrative Code. RPCs also used various formats to provide required information to the State Auditor’s Office. It is important to note that auditors compiled the information that RPCs provided to the State Auditor’s Office. Auditors did not audit the financial information the RPCs provided.

Certified public accountants (CPA) issued unqualified opinions\(^2\) on the financial statements of all 24 RPCs; however, the CPAs identified material weaknesses in internal controls at 3 (12.50 percent) of the RPCs:

- The Alamo Area Council of Governments, see Chapter 1-A on page 5.
- The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, see Chapter 1-R on page 22.
- The Texoma Council of Governments, see Chapter 1-W on page 27.

According to performance information the RPCs submitted, RPCs have multiple programs and functions. According to the RPCs’ audited financial statements, the two programs for which the RPCs spent the largest amounts of funds were aging and workforce development. Appendix 4 includes general descriptions of some of the major programs that RPCs provide. Auditors used various reports that RPCs provided to compile those descriptions.

\(^2\) An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
Nine special purpose sub-regional planning commissions were created between August 2007 and October 2008 to represent local citizens on issues related to the Trans-Texas Corridor. These sub-regional planning commissions were not included in this review.

Table 1 summarizes RPCs’ compliance with statutory requirements to submit information to the State Auditor’s Office. In this table:

- “Fully Complied” indicates that the RPC submitted the statutorily required information, and the information it submitted met the supplemental requirements in the Texas Administrative Code.
- “Partially Complied” indicates that the RPC submitted the statutorily required information, but the information it submitted did not meet some or all of the supplemental requirements in the Texas Administrative Code.
- “Did Not Submit Information” indicates that the RPC did not submit the statutorily required information.

Chapter 1-A
Alamo Area Council of Governments

The Alamo Area Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, the performance data it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance, (2) specific projected performance measure outcome information for this RPC’s programs, and (3) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^3\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007; however, it had one material weakness in internal control over financial reporting and two material weaknesses in internal control over compliance with major federal and state award programs for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. The financial reporting weakness, which was also an unresolved issue from the prior year, related to this RPC’s improper accounting for deferred revenue. This issue also was reported as a significant deficiency in internal control. The two material weaknesses in internal control over compliance for major federal and state programs, which were also reported as significant deficiencies, related to (1) allowable costs and subrecipient monitoring and (2) contractor suspension and debarment. The audit report also discussed an instance of noncompliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements that was material to the financial statements. This instance of noncompliance related to this RPC not properly recording program income for its grants.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its Area Agency on Aging and health and welfare.

\(^3\) An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.

Sources: U.S. Census data; the Texas State Data Center; audited financial statements as of September 30, 2007; report of disposed assets as of September 30, 2008; and salary schedule as of October 2008. Salaries for the Executive Director position are not required to be reported.

The Ark-Tex Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, the performance data and disposed asset report it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance and (2) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives. This RPC’s report on disposed assets did not include the disposition dates or final disposition prices.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. Its audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its housing and urban development program and its Area Agency on Aging.

4 An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
Chapter 1-C
Brazos Valley Council of Governments

The Brazos Valley Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, the performance data and disposed asset report it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance, (2) specific performance measure information for this RPC’s programs, and (3) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives. This RPC’s report on disposed asset did not contain disposition dates.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^5\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its housing and urban development program and its workforce development program.

\(^5\) An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
The Capital Area Council of Governments did not submit all statutorily required information. Specifically, this RPC did not submit a report of disposed assets. This RPC submitted all other statutorily required information; however, the performance data it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance, (2) specific projected performance measure information for this RPC’s programs, and (3) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^6\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its emergency communications program (9-1-1) and its Area Agency on Aging.

\(^6\) An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
The Central Texas Council of Governments did not submit all statutorily required information. Specifically, this RPC did not submit any performance and productivity information. This RPC submitted all other statutorily required information; however, the salary schedule it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its salary schedule did not include exempt positions or information that auditors could use to compare this RPC’s salary schedule to the salary schedules in the State’s Position Classification Plan.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2008; however, it had one finding for federal and state awards. Specifically, this RPC was not adequately reviewing utility rate data, which could cause the utility allowance for grant recipients to be improperly calculated.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, its two largest sources of grants received are the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
The Coastal Bend Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, the information it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code.

The schedule of indirect costs did not contain a comparison of actual indirect cost allocation with the proposed indirect cost allocation plan used to establish an indirect cost rate.

This RPC’s reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance, (2) specific projected performance measure information for this RPC’s programs, and (3) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives.

The Deep East Texas Council of Governments did not submit all statutorily required information due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009. Specifically, this RPC did not submit any performance and productivity information. The statutorily required information that this RPC submitted contained all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^\text{10}\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were regional housing and disaster recovery.

The East Texas Council of Governments did not submit all statutorily required information. Specifically, this RPC did not submit performance and productivity information for the recently completed fiscal year. It submitted the remaining statutorily required information, which contained all of the information required by the Texas Administrative Code.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^\text{11}\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

\(^{11}\) An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
The Golden Crescent Regional Planning Commission submitted all statutorily required information; however, the schedule of indirect costs it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Specifically, the schedule did not contain an explanation of the method this RPC used to compute an expense or a comparison of actual indirect cost allocations with the proposed indirect cost allocation plan used to establish the indirect cost rate.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\textsuperscript{12} on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2008. This RPC had one significant deficiency in internal control over financial reporting related to a lack of segregation of duties within incompatible functions due to the limited size of this RPC’s accounting staff.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were health and welfare and public safety.

The Houston-Galveston Area Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, some of the information it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. The schedule of indirect costs did not contain a comparison of actual indirect cost allocations with the proposed indirect cost allocation plan used to establish the indirect cost rate. This RPC’s report containing projected productivity and performance data did not include specific performance measure information for this RPC’s programs. The report of disposed assets did not contain (1) the reason for disposition, (2) the disposition date, and (3) the final disposition price.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\textsuperscript{14} on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its workforce services program and its transportation program.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council submitted all statutorily required information; however, some of the information it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. The schedule of indirect costs did not contain a comparison of actual indirect cost allocations with the proposed indirect cost allocation plan used to establish the indirect cost rate.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. This RPC had one significant deficiency in internal control over major federal and state award programs. This deficiency related to the failure of this RPC to ensure that all steel and manufactured products used in the construction of the transit administration office were manufactured in the United States.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its Area Agency on Aging and its transportation program.

Chapter 1-N

Middle Rio Grande Development Council

The Middle Rio Grande Development Council did not submit all statutorily required information. Specifically, this RPC did not submit any performance and productivity information. This RPC submitted the remaining statutorily required information; however, the information it submitted did not always include all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. The schedule of indirect costs did not contain a comparison of actual indirect cost allocations to the proposed indirect cost allocation plan used to establish the indirect cost rate. This RPC’s salary schedule information did not include enough information for auditors to compare this RPC’s salary schedule to the salary schedules in the State’s Position Classification Plan.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2008. The audit report included six significant deficiencies in internal control: two in internal control over financial reporting and four in internal control over compliance for major federal and state award programs. Three of the significant deficiencies in internal control over compliance for major federal and state awards were also disclosed as instances of noncompliance with U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133 and the State of Texas Single Audit Circular.

The significant deficiencies for financial reporting related to this RPC’s lack of (1) documentation of management review and approval of journal entries and (2) board approval of consultant contracts in excess of $25,000. The significant deficiencies in internal control that were also disclosed as instances of noncompliance related to (1) excess cash draws, (2) no formal bidding, and (3) lack of a complete physical inventory. The remaining significant deficiency for internal control over compliance for major federal and state award programs was related to this RPC’s reclassification of grant expenditures after the expenditures had been audited and closed.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its economic opportunity programs and its public safety programs.

16 An unqualified opinion indicates that the financial statements are presented fairly in all material respects.
The Nortex Regional Planning Commission did not submit all statutorily required information due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009. Specifically, this RPC did not submit information regarding performance and productivity information and a report of disposed assets. The statutorily required information this RPC submitted contained all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^{17}\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its workforce development program and its Area Agency on Aging.

North Central Texas Council of Governments

The North Central Texas Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, some of the information it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance and (2) specific projected performance outcome measure information for this RPC’s programs. The disposed asset report did not include the (1) acquisition date of disposed assets, (2) reason for disposal, (3) disposition date, and (4) final disposition price.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^{18}\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. This RPC had a compliance finding for federal awards that related to the failure of a sub-recipient to provide adequate documentation for the use of funds related to Hurricane Katrina.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its workforce development program and its transportation program.

Chapter 1-Q

Panhandle Regional Planning Commission

The Panhandle Regional Planning Commission submitted all statutorily required information; however, some of the information it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Its report containing productivity and performance data for the recently completed fiscal year did not include a comparison of planned to actual performance.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\(^\text{19}\) on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007. The audit report did not include any findings.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its workforce development programs and its Area Agency on Aging.

Chapter 1-R
Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission

The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission submitted all statutorily required information; however, the performance data it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. Specifically, its reports containing productivity and performance data did not include (1) a comparison of planned to actual performance, (2) specific performance measure information for this RPC’s programs, and (3) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2007; however, it had one material weakness in internal control over financial reporting related to the failure to properly report accounts payable. This resulted in accounts payable and expenditures being incorrectly reported in this RPC’s financial statements. This RPC also did not properly bill for matching funds, which constituted a significant deficiency in internal controls over financial reporting.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were its workforce development program and its Area Agency on Aging.

The Texoma Council of Governments submitted all statutorily required information; however, the performance data it submitted did not contain all of the components required by the Texas Administrative Code. This RPC’s reports containing productivity and performance data did not include a complete analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives. Specifically, this RPC did not provide an explanation for all goals that it partially met.

This RPC received an unqualified opinion\textsuperscript{25} on its financial statements for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2008; however, it had three material weaknesses in internal control over financial reporting for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2008. This RPC did not perform monthly bank reconciliations in a timely manner in accordance with established procedures, and the design of its general ledger did not match the format this RPC used for financial statement reporting. In addition, this RPC had no controls to ensure that fund balance accounts rolled forward properly, which increased the risk that errors in fund balance accounts could occur without detection.

According to this RPC’s audited financial statements, the two programs for which this RPC spent the largest amounts of funds were human services and aging and disability.

Appendices

Appendix 1

Objective, Scope, and Methodology

Objective
The objective of this review was to determine whether regional planning commissions (RPCs) have submitted reports and audits to the State Auditor’s Office as required under Texas Local Government Code, Section 391.0095, and report any failure to submit reports and audits to the Governor’s Office.

Scope
The scope of this review covered reports due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009.

Methodology
The methodology for this review included determining whether RPCs submitted statutorily required information due to the State Auditor’s Office between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009. Auditors did not verify the accuracy of this information. Auditors also compiled certain information provided by the RPCs, such as the results of financial statement audits and information from productivity and performance reports.

Information collected and reviewed included the following:

- Audited financial statements.
- Performance and productivity reports.
- Salary schedules.
- Budget and work program reports.
- Indirect cost reports.
- Disposed asset reports.

Procedures and tests conducted included the following:

- Verifying whether RPCs provided information required by the Texas Local Government Code that was due between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009.

- Determining whether the information that RPCs provided included all of the information components required by the Texas Administrative Code.
• Compiling certain information provided by the RPCs, such as the results of annual financial audits and productivity and performance reports.

Criteria used included the following:

• Texas Local Government Code, Chapter 391.

• Title 1, Texas Administrative Code, Sections 3.9410, 3.9420, and 3.9430.

Project Information

Fieldwork for this review was conducted from June 2009 through July 2009. This project was a review; therefore, the information in this report was not subjected to all the tests and confirmations that would be performed in an audit. However, the information in this report was subject to certain quality control procedures to help ensure accuracy. The following members of the State Auditor’s staff performed the review:

• Frances Anne Hoel, CIA, CGAP (Project Manager)

• Becky Beachy, CIA, CGAP

• Katherine Koinis

• Barrett Sundberg, MPA, CIA

• Kimberly Teague, MS

• Leslie P. Ashton, CPA (Quality Control Reviewer)

• Lisa R. Collier, CPA (Assistant State Auditor)
Appendix 2

Texas Administrative Code Requirements for Regional Planning Commissions

The following excerpts from Title 1, Texas Administrative Code, Chapter 3, set forth the components of the information that regional planning commissions (also referred to as councils of governments or COGs) are required to submit.

Section 3.9410 – Annual Financial Report Requirements

(a) Not later than nine months after the close of each COG's fiscal year, each COG shall submit a completed financial audit prepared by a certified public accountant, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States and the provisions of OMB Circular A-133 and the State Single Audit Circular, when applicable, to CJD, the State Auditor, the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and the Legislative Budget Board, and shall make the financial audit available to each member of the Legislature.

(c) The annual financial audit shall include the following:

(1) the amount and source of funds received by the COG;

(2) the amount and source of funds expended by the COG;

(3) an explanation of any method used by the COG to compute an expense of the COG, including computation of any indirect costs of the COG; and

(4) a statement of indirect costs which compares actual indirect cost allocations with the proposed indirect cost allocation plan used to establish an indirect cost rate.

Section 3.9420 – Salary Schedules

(a) For each fiscal year, each COG shall publish a salary schedule containing a classification salary schedule for classified positions, and identifying and specifying the salaries for positions exempt from the classification salary schedule.

(b) The salary schedule adopted by the COG may not exceed, for classified positions, the state salary schedule for classified positions as prescribed by the general appropriations act adopted by the most recent legislature. A COG may adopt a salary schedule that is equal to or less than the state salary schedule.
(c) A position may only be exempted from the classification salary schedule adopted by the COG if the exemption and the salary paid for the exempt position is within the range prescribed by the general appropriations act.

(d) Wage and salary comparability will be determined from the state position classification plan, positions exempt from the state position classification plan, the State Auditor's biennial reports on state classification and pay, and the State Auditor's reports on benefits as a percentage of salary, as well as the U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Cost index and other appropriate sources, including documentation provided by the COG.

(e) Not later than the 45th day before the date of the beginning of each COG's fiscal year, each COG shall submit its salary schedule, as approved by its governing body, including the salaries of all exempt positions, to the State Auditor and shall make its salary schedule available to each member of the Legislature.

(f) If the State Auditor, subject to the Legislative Audit Committee's approval for inclusion in the audit plan under §321.013, Government Code, has recommendations to improve a COG's salary schedule or a portion thereof, the State Auditor shall report the recommendations to CJD.

(g) CJD may not allow the portion of the schedule for which the State Auditor has recommendations to go into effect until revisions or explanations are received from a COG that are satisfactory to CJD and support the recommendations from the State Auditor.

(h) This section does not apply to a COG if the most populous county that is a member of the COG has an actual average weekly wage that exceeds the state average weekly wage by 20% or more for the previous year as determined by the Texas Workforce Commission in its County Employment and Wage Information Report.

(1) A COG exempted from the salary provisions by this subsection shall annually file an exemption notice with the State Auditor.

(2) The exemption notice shall contain supporting information from the Texas Work Force Commission's County Employment and Wage Information Report for the applicable period.

Section 3.9430 – Productivity Reports and Disposed Assets

Not later than the last business day of the month of December of each year, each COG shall submit the following to CJD, the State Auditor, the Comptroller of Public Accounts, and the Legislative Budget Board, in a format prescribed by CJD:
(1) a report of the COG's productivity and performance during the most recently completed fiscal year, which shall include:

(A) the outcomes of the program's activities at the most detailed level reported to each sponsoring agency, including:

(i) any program output measures the COG is required to report to an entity sponsoring the program; and

(ii) any outcome measures the COG is required to report to an entity sponsoring the program;

(B) a comparison of planned performance and actual results; and

(C) an analysis of progress made toward achieving planned goals and objectives;

(2) a projection of the COG's productivity and performance during the next fiscal year based upon the COG's specified goals, objectives, and performance measures for the next fiscal year;

(3) a report of any assets disposed of by the COG, which shall include the following:

(A) an itemized list describing each disposed asset;

(B) the acquisition date of each disposed asset;

(C) the purchase price of each disposed asset;

(D) the reason for disposing of each asset;

(E) the disposition date of each disposed asset; and

(F) the final disposition price for each disposed asset;

(4) a complete annual financial statement, which shall include a list of receipts and expenditures by accounts.
Regional planning commissions (RPCs) provide services in areas ranging from 26 counties (for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission) to three counties (for the Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council, the South East Texas Regional Planning Commission, and the Texoma Council of Governments). The North Central Texas Council of Governments serves the most citizens (6,308,939 citizens), while the Concho Valley Council of Governments serves the fewest citizens (148,793 citizens).

Table 2 shows each RPC’s total revenue from all sources, total expenditures, and population. This information is reported as of each RPC’s fiscal year end.

Appendix 4

Information Regarding Regional Planning Commissions’ Major Programs

This appendix presents general descriptions of some of the major programs that regional planning commissions (RPCs) provide. Auditors used various reports that RPCs provided to compile these descriptions.

Area Agency on Aging Program (Categorized as Health and Welfare for some RPCs)

This program provides various services for persons who are 60 years of age or older. Services typically include transportation, meals, and benefits counseling.

Disaster Recovery

These programs provide services to citizens in the aftermath of a natural disaster. Services include housing and weatherization repairs, with a focus on senior citizens, the handicapped, and special needs populations.

Emergency Communications 9-1-1 and Public Safety Programs

These programs include maintaining, testing, and enhancing 9-1-1 systems throughout each RPC’s respective region.

Environmental Quality Program

This program provides services that address issues related to the environment, economic development, and rural transportation projects.

Head Start Program

This program provides services to children and families, including preparing children for kindergarten and encouraging parental involvement in their children’s activities.

Health and Welfare Programs

Health and welfare expenditures typically relate to other RPC programs such as Area Agency on Aging. For one RPC, these expenditures related to the Bexar Mental Retardation Authority, which provides services to eligible children and adults with mental retardation that include employment assistance and specialized therapies.

HIV Intervention and Prevention Program

This program provides a variety of services and opportunities for people and families affected by HIV/AIDS.
Housing and Urban Development, Community Services/Affordable Housing, and Health and Human Services Programs

Services provided by housing programs include assistance to low income residents to obtain decent, safe, and sanitary housing. The programs also may assist low income residents by providing repairs to increase energy efficiency and energy star appliances.

Substance Abuse Program

The substance abuse program provides a variety of services that address alcoholism and other drug additions. These services include outreach and education to high-risk youths and the community, and assistance in providing screening, referral, and placement services.

Transportation Program

Transportation program services may include providing non-emergency transportation for eligible clients such as senior citizens and promoting ideas that balance transportation needs with land use and environmental issues.

Workforce Development, Economic Opportunity, and Employer of Record Programs

Services provided by these programs typically include (1) job placement assistance, (2) training, and (3) subsidized or free child care to qualified workers. Other services may include assistance to employers in locating and hiring qualified employees and providing payroll services.
